The ghost of Crazy Clide A.K.A. Cliden Lydon, of the band The Creepies. Clide was often known for his odd stage antics, such as drinking gasoline and swallowing his MIC. One show proved to be fatal when attempting to stage dive, he landed on the MIC's pole and it ripped through him. Now legend says that if you listen to anyone of the Creepies records or go to see any spin-off bands, you will be possessed by his spirit.
